

Working Plan

7/11/2021

Summary of This Week (1/11 - 7/11):

This week we tried to find more datasets that are relevant to our research. We found some datasets that further explained the features of Asian population in Massachusetts and the Boston area. We also try to make some comparisons between population growth of different Asian communities over the years. In summary, we try to give some general analysis on how Economy in the U.S affects the Asian population.

Plan for Next Week (8/11 - 14/11)

We plan to combine our preliminary analysis from deliverable 1 and 2 to see whether we can find some correlation between datasets we found so far. For the correlation between datasets, we are considering research for some paper in this subject to help us explain the trend we found. We will generate the draft for the final report and the early insight presentation as well.
